

Mills Takes Reserve in High Roller Futurity

It was a successful weekend in Las Vegas for Matt Mills, but the talented trainer wasn't gambling at the tables of the South Point Casino. Instead, he was riding his top futurity horse, The Sargeant Dunit to the Open Futurity Reserve Championship.

Mills and The Sargeant Dunit, owned by C&J Investment Partnership of Topeka, Kan., scored a 221 in the Open Futurity after drawing up early in the competition. Their score of 221 held up until nearly the end, when they were edged out by Electrical Flash and Todd Bergen. Still, Mills and The Sargeant Dunit, by Reminic N Dunit and out of Ms Sargeant Freckles by Sargeant Freckles, earned a check worth $2,816 for their efforts.

Mills is planning to continue showing The Sargeant Dunit on the fall futurity circuit, with the next stop being the Scottsdale Classic in Scottsdale, Arizona, then on to the NRHA Futurity in Oklahoma City.

Matt Mills is one of reining's most prominent young trainers. He was part of the 2006 gold-medal-winning Team USA at the World Equestrian Games in Aachen, Germany, and is also a popular clinician. Mills is proud to be sponsored by Purina Mills, Classic Equine, Rios of Mercedes and Cinch. For more information, visit www.mattmillsreining.com, or contact Kellie Carr at ilove2rodeo@yahoo.com.
