

Red Hats & Purple Chaps of Missouri

Introducing Red Hats & Purple Chaps of Missouri, a part of the Red Hat Society devoted to horsewomen. If you love horses, join us! Women of any ages are welcome. We'll be appearing in local parades, having clinics and trail rides, and having the occasional meeting. We communicate via our website and email.

The Red Hat Society is about personal fulfillment, being part of a wonderful sisterhood, and of course having fun. A woman in Indianapolis, Jane Howard, MD, bought a pair of purple chaps in 2004 and Red Hats & Purple Chaps was born. Over 200 members later, we are now starting chapters all over the country. With appearances in the Kentucky Derby Pegasus parade and the Chicago Thanksgiving Day parade, RHPC is getting lots of national attention. Everywhere they go, the crowds love these "galloping grannies" as they ride, drive, walk, scooter, and engage the crowd.

Embracing our age and having fun with horses, can you find a better combination?
